In A Daughter of the King, Sarah Ehram shares her journey as a single Christian woman and challenges you to see life as more than an empty fairy tale but instead as a life that can be full of joy and meaning. Using the truths found in God's Word, she shows you how God does indeed have a plan and an identity that stretches far beyond a relationship status. You are a daughter of the King. You are a princess. And you are incredibly loved. As you correctly understand your identity, you will be able to walk through life with direction, joy, grace, and confidence. Sarah's hope is that single Christian women will rediscover their worth, identity, and purpose, and that older women will be encouraged to more effectively train their daughters for a life lived in Christ, no matter what that specific life might entail. Parenting is about more than molding the behavior of our kids. It's about influencing a child's heart and mind. Hearts and Minds shows parents the most effective way to influence a child's heart. This book applies the principles of Christian worldview in How Now Shall We Live to the process of raising children. It deals with issues like educational choices, how to handle the teaching of non-Christian worldview in secular schools, and how Christian worldview informs parenting choices. The situational ethics of contemporary culture has unleashed an arsenal of moral inconsistencies aimed at diluting the validity and effectiveness of the Christian faith. It is extremely crucial that Christian parents treat with much urgency the importance of conveying their faith to their children. This book was written to assist Christian parents in the process of nurturing spiritually sensitive and emotionally stable children. Christian parents will learn: How to effectively use the word of God in the nurturing process How to help your children discover and pursue the purpose of God How to create a caring environment within the home How to protect your children from negative influences The practical advice in this book will help you to be an effective parent, affirming the words of Joshua: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." (Joshua 24:15) Paul Carrette is a native of the Caribbean island of Dominica. His dynamic and relevant teaching ministry reaches across cultural, racial, and denominational barriers. He has been involved in education and Christian ministry more than 25 years. He served as an elementary school teacher, director of a Christian academy, Children's Ministry Pastor, and currently serves as Senior Pastor of Trinity Outreach Church in Annapolis, Maryland. His love for children is reflected in the passion that he displays as the Executive Director of Kidz Club Inc. a non-profit organization dedicated to enhancing the lives of disadvantaged children. In addition to his studies and experience in education and business, he received his theological training from Christ for the Nations Institute, Dallas, Texas. Pastor Carrette has been married to his wife Eulita for 22 years. The couple has two daughters, Sheila and Kimberly. I will put my trust in Him ... Behold I and the children which God has given me - Hebrews 2:13 This book is different from most books on raising children. It is a plea for the parents to truly know and walk with God - for them to love God and His Word. In the correct order, focusing first on the parents, Andrew Murray then urges parents to sincerely and consistently love their children and in all tenderness and gentleness teach them as God also teaches us. Children are a most precious gift that we receive from God, and they deserve our very best. Our faithful training will not be lost on our children; this is a promise found over and over again in the Scriptures. If our hearts are right towards God and our children, the world's influence will not impact our children. We can and must exercise faith, so our children and our children's children will be able to impact the world for Christ and inherit eternal blessings. A few of the parenting topics covered in this book: What sin did to the family and how to redeem that which was lost. The distinct and also shared roles of fathers and mothers. How and why to teach children manners. How to show children the Scriptures in a way that takes root in the heart. How to teach with a quiet, gentle spirit, as God teaches us. How to intercede effectively in prayer for our children. The God ordained family is the building block of a sound and just society. As goes the family, so goes the nation. In recent years, the American family has suffered major setbacks and continual blows from iniquitous governmental decrees along with a hearty amen from an immoral culture. Governments opposed to God have always incorporated sexual immorality to pacify citizens to gain more control over their fleeting lives. Every good statist (Those who promote the state as god) knows to gain more power, they must of necessity weaken the family. This godless agenda is one of the major reasons why America is swiftly moving from a free nation to a socialist nation under our watch. Seeing the writing on the wall, Rev. Rusty Lee Thomas, in his new book, Raising Godly Children in a Godless Age, issues a clarion call to those who have eyes to see and ears to hear. The call is to consciously come back to the God of the Bible and rebuild our families on the solid foundation of His Word. Our nation is out of order and is spinning out of control. The sexual confusion plaguing our young is directly tied to feminization of masculinity and the masculinization of femininity. By laying a strong foundation of theology and Biblical doctrine, Rev. Thomas provides the practical helps necessary for families to Raise Godly Children in a Godless Age. "For Christians who love a bit of sass, this delightful guide poignantly explains how to praise God while accepting the messiness that life brings."—Publisher's Weekly God is Crazy About You—Hot Mess and All! If you're anything like Kerri Pomarolli, you've read Proverbs 31 and thought, "Who is this woman? And what kind of magic unicorn, Energizer Bunny juice does she have on IV?" And you thought social media standards were hard to live up to! As a sought-after comedian living in LA, Kerri knows about impossible standards. "I don't plow, and I don't rise early. When it says she gathers her food from afar, does that mean takeout...?" In Confessions of a Proverbs 32 Woman, Kerri fearlessly shares the messiness of her own life with wit and honesty. Join her as she delves into the struggles of the modern woman tired of trying and failing to live up to Pinterest-looking, air-brushed, and insta-filtered "real life" role models telling her she's not quite good enough. And learn the two things you can hold onto for longer than your smartphone: genuine self-awareness and humble God-awareness. Kerri is a self-proclaimed hot mess for Jesus who has learned that God never said our lives would be mess-less, but He also never intended for us to wallow forever without a way through. When you're at your most hopeless, God and His Word will meet you there, where you'll find, as Kerri has, that this #hotmess4Jesus thing really can be the best possible life to live. In the Kingdom of God, I came to the conclusion that, the key principle when it comes to marriage is: "My Son Marries My daughter." I coined this phrase as my contribution to the world on the subject of Christian (or religious) marriages. God instructs that His children marry among themselves. Don't be horrified, this principle is not the same as incest. 2nd Corinthians 6:14 instructs that God's children should not be unequally yoked with unbelievers. It is God's principle. As a child of God, you violate it at your own peril. From the Old Testament to the New Testament, the Bible is awash with examples of those who followed this key principle and had successful marriages (e.g. Isaac and Rebecca, Jacob and Rachel, Joseph and Mary) while other examples show what happened whenever this principle was violated (e.g. Ahab and Jezebel). Our Heavenly Father wants His sons to marry His daughters. The creation account in Genesis 1:26 - 28 tells us that God created Adam, His own son. Later on, out of Adam, God made His daughter, Eve. Apart from creation, God's first official role was to conduct a marriage in the Garden of Eden (Genesis 2:18 -24). That day His son Adam married His daughter, Eve. He sealed the key principle on Kingdom relationships, and in a way declared: 'My son marries my daughter.' That's marriage, God's way. To sum up the book: God started with a wedding in the garden of Eden; He is going to finish with a wedding in the clouds (1st Thess. 4:13-18), completing the full circle of this Divine principle. His only begotten son (Jesus Christ/the Bridegroom) will marry His only daughter (the Church/the Bride). It's official: 'My son marries my daughter', says God. Enjoy GODLY PARENTS, GODLY CHILDREN QUIZ BOOK This book points your gaze to events, people, important scriptural truths/lessons that would otherwise not be revealed except through a thorough study of the Bible. Key issues are tackled using questions-induced approach, backed up by answers in the form of scripture verse(s). Ideal for families and church groups. Olukayode Ogunkoya ia a Pastor in the Redeemed Christian God of God. His desire is for parents to be able to teach and entrust what they learned from the scriptures to their children and be able to say like Apostle Paul said to Timothy "you know who your teachers were, and you remember that ever since you were a child, you have known the Holy Scriptures which are able to give you wisdom that leads to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus." He and his wife Yemisi and their two sons live in Essex in the UK. He is also the author of Godly Parents, Godly Children - the children's prayer book. "I wish I had the Lord Jesus Christ, the church, and this book twenty-two years ago when I started raising my children" Elizabeth Arant, Educational Media Specialist When children enter your life, one thing immediately comes to mind: things would probably go much more smoothly if they came with an owner's manual. "The familiar saying of 'Home is where the heart is' is more than a good proverb. It reveals that the home is a place where God has called parents to raise Godly children. Upon reading The Guide for the Spiritual Development of Children by Jessie Adams, the principles he hits upon lead right to the heart of the home of how parents can pass the test of being and becoming Godly examples to their children by being the primary catalyst to their spiritual development. The biblical principles which are given in this book can encourage, exhort, and equip any parent in training up godly children who will make an eternal impact in the lives of their own children in the future. I highly recommend this book to any parent or parent-to-be as a powerful tool in helping them raise Godly children." Reverend Brad Threatt, Senior Pastor Spring Hill Baptist Church, Lancaster, SC

God Made All of Me by Justin and Lindsey Holcomb is an invaluable resource and beautifully illustrated story to help families talk about sensitive issues with two- to eight-year-old children. Because the private parts of our bodies are private, home is the ideal environment for a child to learn about his or her body and how it should be treated by others—without conveying a message of shame. Through carefully written language and relatable storytelling, God Made All of Me helps parents navigate discussion that can so easily be warped into confusion, embarrassment, and secrecy. Instead of instilling a message that their bodies are shameful—which can often prevent children from recognizing and reporting sexual abuse—Justin and Lindsey Holcomb equip parents to build a first line of defense against sexual abuse in the safety of their own homes. This helpful guide starts from the fundamental truth that God created everything and applies that truth—the doctrine of creation—to kids and their bodies. With the help of God Made All of Me, parents and caregivers can begin conversations with boys and girls about their bodies, helping kids understand the difference between the appropriate and inappropriate touch of others. This life-changing resource shows readers how to establish the foundation for a healthy bond with their children to meet increasing challenges of sexuality, which they will inevitably confront in childhood and adolescence. By teaching their children how to establish body and health boundaries, parents are imparting invaluable skills for their kids to express thoughts and feelings. God Made All of Me is the first children's book written by Rid of My Disgrace authors, Justin and Lindsey Holcomb. Parents of young children themselves, the Holcombs are profoundly aware of the dangers kids face, and they regularly counsel victims of sexual abuse. Explore God Made All of Me and find encouragement, clear guidance, and the tools necessary to facilitate open conversations about how your children can protect their bodies, an important step in keeping them as safe as possible.

Hands Off My Daughter Have you ever asked yourself: "How can I protect my daughter from the pull of our culture that declares sex before marriage is normal and acceptable?" You are not alone. Many Christian men face this dilemma. They fear for the future of their children—daughters and sons alike. This book is filled with lessons I learned along the way (most through losses and failures but we will get to that later), wisdom straight from God's Word, and actionable worksheets, and tips to empower you to live out the proven life of Jesus. Now there are tons of books about your child's diagnosis, but this is not one of those books. This book is for you, the special daughter God had in mind in this path of motherhood! Be empowered to walk out this lovely, full life ahead. Will you join me? God always keeps His promises, but not always in the way we expect.... "Have faith" is a phrase we hear all the time. But what does it actually look like to live it out? In The Mothers and Daughters of the Bible Speak, Shannon Bream examines the lives of biblical women to see how God's plans can turn our worlds upside down. She tells the story of Jochebed, a mother who took enormous risks to protect her son, Moses, from Pharaoh. Could Jochebed have imagined that God's actual design for her son involved flight into exile and danger? And yet this was all part of the master plan to deliver Israel from slavery. Another biblical mother, Rebekah, made terrible choices in an attempt to ensure her son's place in history. And a daughter, Michal, struggled to keep her faithless father, Saul, from sin, while battling pride in herself. Through these stories, Shannon explains the intimate connection between faith and family—and how God's unexpected agenda can redefine the way we think about family. Not all of these mothers and daughters in the Bible were paragons of virtue. Like us, they were human beings who faltered and struggled to do their best. While some heard God's voice, others chose their own paths. Through the lens of their imperfections, we can see how God used their stories to bring about His divine plans. He's still doing the same work in our lives today. The Mothers and Daughters of the Bible Speak shows that faith is more often a twisting road than a straight line. Yet, as the stories of biblical families attest, at the end of these journeys lies greater peace and joy than we could ever imagine. Supplemental enhancement PDF accompanies the audiobook. Voddie Baucham's celebrated guide for godly families is now available in paperback, with study questions added. Parents will find this a critical resource for the spiritual nourishment of the next generation. Offers guidance to parents on how to raise children in today's world, citing the challenges faced by people during the biblical lifetime of Daniel while sharing advice on how to instill protective values. Original. Proverbs 31:10-31 speaks of the type of wife that we, as daughters, should strive to be. A Proverbs 31 Daughter provides encouragement for daughters as they grow and prepare for their future. This book shows us how we should have submission, kindness, respect, consideration, love, purity, and servitude as daughters. Striving to be a godly daughter now will help us be a godly wife later. This takes time and effort and in a world that screams me, me, me this book portrays the selfless attitude we should have as servants of a most holy God. This total child care book offers Christian-centered, medically authoritative advice on every aspect of parenting, from choosing an obstetrician to disciplining teenagers. As parents of eight children, William and Martha Sears draw on thirty years of practical and professional experience, resulting in a valuable reference book no family should be without. Informed by research that reveals destructive parenting patterns are being handed down through most American families (including Christian households), The Parent Adventure looks to the church to help break this cycle and teach moms and dads how to prepare their kids for a lifetime with God. The problem starts when parents raise children based on their personal experiences growing up instead of using the Bible as the timeless, authoritative guide. Although seemingly painful at first, the parental attitude of "letting go" must begin intentionally at birth, keeping in mind that each child's life is more about knowing God than anything else. With this outlook established, the future-focused mom and dad will move more joyfully through each stage in the adventure of parenting as detailed in the book. Knowing God has a lifelong plan for each family member, parents and kids will grow closer to each other just as sure as they will grow closer to God. Seventy percent of women polled expressed dissatisfaction with their mother-in-law or daughter-in-law. Comments ranged from "I'm glad she doesn't visit" to "I wish she were dead." It's safe to say this is one of the more complicated human relationships! The older woman comes to the relationship with memories of a sweet baby boy and the acute awareness of a door closing on an important role in her life. The younger woman comes with confidence and anticipation---eager to swing open the door to a new life and march right through it. Often the only thing these two women have in common is their love for the same man. Neither of them is prepared for the ensuing struggle. In Mothers-in-Law vs. Daughters-in-law, author Elisabeth Graham shares biblical wisdom and personal experience as she helps you reshape your relationship with your in-law. With her guidance, you will recognize areas of conflict, reexamine your expectations of your in-law, set boundaries, and develop patience and understanding for your in-law. Wynter and Jonathan Pitts want you to know you are not alone. The proud parents of four young daughters, they've gained a wealth of valuable insights on the unique challenge of raising girls. They've been right where you are and now they want to share what they've learned with you.
